PRESENTATION & CARE

GENERAL CARE OF STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED PRODUCTS

In the modern world time is precious and there certainly isn't time to clean silver every day.

The common belief that silver is high maintenance is founded upon the romantic notion of butlers endlessly polishing the master's silver. In fact, a wipe of a silver cloth approximately every 2 to 3 weeks is perfectly adequate to maintain your silver.

If tarnishing does begin to show, clean the item, using one of the cleaning products available from Carrs Silver. This should only be necessary twice a year depending on the conditions in which the silver is displayed or stored.

STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED CUTLERY

Sterling Silver and Silver Plated cutlery may become tarnished, this is simply removed with a good quality silver polish and a soft cloth. Always wash the cutlery after polishing. We do not recommend the use of a silver dip. Store in one of Carrs' canteen cases or cutlery rolls.

Silver is a soft metal and scratches more easily than stainless steel. Over a period of time the tiny scratches build up to produce an attractive patina, this is a natural occurrence, characteristic of silver.

CUTLERY – GENERAL CARE

To help preserve the condition of your cutlery, we recommend you follow these simple guidelines when washing and storing your cutlery.

- For normal hygiene reasons, the cutlery should be washed before first use
- Do not leave the cutlery to soak, or store it in damp conditions
- Store in a cabinet or a cutlery roll available from Carrs Silver
- Rinse or wash cutlery immediately after use. Do not leave the cutlery with food on it for any length of time. Prolonged contact with certain foods such as salt, eggs, acid fruits and vinegars can cause marks and stains to occur.

HAND WASHING

Only use domestic washing up liquid and warm water, dry thoroughly with a soft cloth. Never use bleach or abrasive scouring materials.

DISHWASHERS

Always follow the dishwasher manufacturer's instructions.

Put knives with their blades facing down in a separate compartment to the spoons and forks.

Do not use the rinse and hold cycle. As soon as the cleaning cycle is complete, remove cutlery and dry with a soft cloth.

PRESENTATION & CARE

GENERAL CARE OF STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED PRODUCTS

In the modern world time is precious and there certainly isn't time to clean silver every day.

The common belief that silver is high maintenance is founded upon the romantic notion of butlers endlessly polishing the master's silver. In fact, a wipe of a silver cloth approximately every 2 to 3 weeks is perfectly adequate to maintain your silver.

If tarnishing does begin to show, clean the item, using one of the cleaning products available from Carrs Silver. This should only be necessary twice a year depending on the conditions in which the silver is displayed or stored.

STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED CUTLERY

Sterling Silver and Silver Plated cutlery may become tarnished, this is simply removed with a good quality silver polish and a soft cloth. Always wash the cutlery after polishing. We do not recommend the use of a silver dip. Store in one of Carrs' canteen cases or cutlery rolls.

Silver is a soft metal and scratches more easily than stainless steel. Over a period of time the tiny scratches build up to produce an attractive patina, this is a natural occurrence, characteristic of silver.

CUTLERY – GENERAL CARE

To help preserve the condition of your cutlery, we recommend you follow these simple guidelines when washing and storing your cutlery.

- For normal hygiene reasons, the cutlery should be washed before first use
- Do not leave the cutlery to soak, or store it in damp conditions
- Store in a cabinet or a cutlery roll available from Carrs Silver
- Rinse or wash cutlery immediately after use. Do not leave the cutlery with food on it for any length of time. Prolonged contact with certain foods such as salt, eggs, acid fruits and vinegars can cause marks and stains to occur.

HAND WASHING

Only use domestic washing up liquid and warm water, dry thoroughly with a soft cloth. Never use bleach or abrasive scouring materials.

DISHWASHERS

Always follow the dishwasher manufacturer's instructions.

Put knives with their blades facing down in a separate compartment to the spoons and forks.

Do not use the rinse and hold cycle. As soon as the cleaning cycle is complete, remove cutlery and dry with a soft cloth.

PRESENTATION & CARE

GENERAL CARE OF STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED PRODUCTS

In the modern world time is precious and there certainly isn't time to clean silver every day.

The common belief that silver is high maintenance is founded upon the romantic notion of butlers endlessly polishing the master's silver. In fact, a wipe of a silver cloth approximately every 2 to 3 weeks is perfectly adequate to maintain your silver.

If tarnishing does begin to show, clean the item, using one of the cleaning products available from Carrs Silver. This should only be necessary twice a year depending on the conditions in which the silver is displayed or stored.

STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED CUTLERY

Sterling Silver and Silver Plated cutlery may become tarnished, this is simply removed with a good quality silver polish and a soft cloth. Always wash the cutlery after polishing. We do not recommend the use of a silver dip. Store in one of Carrs' canteen cases or cutlery rolls.

Silver is a soft metal and scratches more easily than stainless steel. Over a period of time the tiny scratches build up to produce an attractive patina, this is a natural occurrence, characteristic of silver.

CUTLERY – GENERAL CARE

To help preserve the condition of your cutlery, we recommend you follow these simple guidelines when washing and storing your cutlery.

- For normal hygiene reasons, the cutlery should be washed before first use
- Do not leave the cutlery to soak, or store it in damp conditions
- Store in a cabinet or a cutlery roll available from Carrs Silver
- Rinse or wash cutlery immediately after use. Do not leave the cutlery with food on it for any length of time. Prolonged contact with certain foods such as salt, eggs, acid fruits and vinegars can cause marks and stains to occur.

HAND WASHING

Only use domestic washing up liquid and warm water, dry thoroughly with a soft cloth. Never use bleach or abrasive scouring materials.

DISHWASHERS

Always follow the dishwasher manufacturer's instructions.

Put knives with their blades facing down in a separate compartment to the spoons and forks.

Do not use the rinse and hold cycle. As soon as the cleaning cycle is complete, remove cutlery and dry with a soft cloth.

PRESENTATION & CARE

GENERAL CARE OF STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED PRODUCTS

In the modern world time is precious and there certainly isn't time to clean silver every day.

The common belief that silver is high maintenance is founded upon the romantic notion of butlers endlessly polishing the master's silver. In fact, a wipe of a silver cloth approximately every 2 to 3 weeks is perfectly adequate to maintain your silver.

If tarnishing does begin to show, clean the item, using one of the cleaning products available from Carrs Silver. This should only be necessary twice a year depending on the conditions in which the silver is displayed or stored.

STERLING SILVER & SILVER PLATED CUTLERY

Sterling Silver and Silver Plated cutlery may become tarnished, this is simply removed with a good quality silver polish and a soft cloth. Always wash the cutlery after polishing. We do not recommend the use of a silver dip. Store in one of Carrs' canteen cases or cutlery rolls.

Silver is a soft metal and scratches more easily than stainless steel. Over a period of time the tiny scratches build up to produce an attractive patina, this is a natural occurrence, characteristic of silver.

CUTLERY – GENERAL CARE

To help preserve the condition of your cutlery, we recommend you follow these simple guidelines when washing and storing your cutlery.

- For normal hygiene reasons, the cutlery should be washed before first use
- Do not leave the cutlery to soak, or store it in damp conditions
- Store in a cabinet or a cutlery roll available from Carrs Silver
- Rinse or wash cutlery immediately after use. Do not leave the cutlery with food on it for any length of time. Prolonged contact with certain foods such as salt, eggs, acid fruits and vinegars can cause marks and stains to occur.

HAND WASHING

Only use domestic washing up liquid and warm water, dry thoroughly with a soft cloth. Never use bleach or abrasive scouring materials.

DISHWASHERS

Always follow the dishwasher manufacturer's instructions.

Put knives with their blades facing down in a separate compartment to the spoons and forks.

Do not use the rinse and hold cycle. As soon as the cleaning cycle is complete, remove cutlery and dry with a soft cloth.
